Apache Moose have many years experience in producing all kinds of high quality deck shoes. All their shoes, including the Apache Moose Aspens, are designed and created in the traditional way. This results in stylish, comfortable and rugged shoes that are built to last.

The Aspens are made in the same way all Apache Moose shoes are made, sewn by hand. This creates a practical, hard wearing moccasin that moulds to the shape of the foot for maximum comfort. They are made from premium pull-up and nubuck leather giving them a high-end finish.

This construction along with their high-grade siped, non-marking rubber soles, means the Aspens don't just look great but are suitable for everyday usage, be that on the deck of a vessel or out and about every day. Their rust-proof eyelets and American raw-hide laces also mean that wherever you use them, they will last.
